Tax Deductions*

Property Taxes

The Indiana General Assembly enacted the following deductions. In order to receive the deductions, you must file in your County Auditor's office before May 10th of the year in which you would like the deductions to take effect. If there are any changes made following the year you filed, you must refile to continue to receive the deductions.

Homestead Credit -- Any person who either owns or is buying a home is entitled to a 10% property tax credit on his/her primary residence. A person who qualifies for the homestead credit also receives a standard deduction of $6,000 or one-half of the assessed value, whichever is less.

Mortgage -- Any person who has a mortgage may receive a deduction of $3,000 or one-half of the assessed value of the real property, whichever is less.

Blind & Disabled Persons -- A $6,000 deduction from the assessed value is available to blind or disabled persons. The deduction is available for real property used as the primary residence if the person's taxable gross income was less than $17,000 in the preceding year.

Senior Citizens -- People age 65 years or older are eligible for a $6,000 deduction from the assessed value of their real property if their adjusted gross income is less than $25,000, they have owned the property for more than one year, and the assessed value of the property is not more than $69,000. Seniors using this property tax deduction may not receive another deduction other than mortgage and homestead deductions.

Veterans -- Various deductions are available for veterans and their spouses. Check with the County Auditor for more information.

Other Tax Deductions

Inheritance Tax -- there is a $100,000 inheritance tax deduction for each "Class A" beneficiary, which includes each child, parent, grandchild, and grandparent.

Renters -- the renter's deduction was increased to $2,000.

Income Tax -- new deduction for up to $2,500 of property taxes paid on the principal place of residence. In addition to $1,000 exemption for the taxpayer, spouse and each dependent claimed on the federal return, $1,500 can be deducted for each dependent child under the age of 18.

Income Tax -- the seniors income tax deduction was increased to $1,500 for those with incomes less than $40,000 per year. ($1,000 deduction remains the same for those with incomes of $40,000 or more).

Long term health care -- there is a new income tax deduction for premiums paid on state qualified long-term health care insurance.

If you have any questions about property assessments, contact your County Assessor. If you have any other tax related questions, please contact my office at 1-800-382-9842.*

Energy Assistance Program

The Energy Assistance Program provides financial assistance on a first-come, first-serve basis to families who may have difficulty paying for utility services during the winter heating season. The program also provides limited funds for cooling devices during the summer months.

For more information contact your local Community Action Agency, listed in the Appendix.

House Publications Available

The following publications can be requested free of charge from my Statehouse office by calling toll-free 1-800-382-9842:

Don't Be a Victim—Many con artists prey on senior citizens. This booklet provides tips for avoiding telephone fraud and scams.

Higher Education—A publication for those interested in pursuing a higher education degree, detailing many Indiana colleges and universities as well as occupational and vocational schools.

Guide to State Agencies—This booklet details various agencies within Indiana state government, listing phone numbers, functions and general areas of responsibility for each.

Hoosier Fun and Facts—Designed for elementary school-aged children, this information and activity book teaches students about their state through a combination of text, puzzles and other educational activities.

Telephone legislation benefits consumers

Indiana has several laws to protect consumers in the area of telecommunications. One new law lets you add your name to a list of numbers that can't be contacted by telephone solicitors. This law also established strict provisions that a telemarketer must follow in order for a sale to be valid. To add your name to the no-call list, contact the consumer protection division of the Indiana Attorney General's office at 1-888-834-9969. You can also register online by accessing the Attorney General's Website at www.in.gov/attorneygeneral.

A second law prohibits the unauthorized switching of a customer from one telecommunications provider to another and enables the Attorney General to prosecute telephone companies that violate the law's provisions. Telecommunications providers are also prohibited from billing customers for services that the customer did not authorize.

Professional fund-raisers are required to provide information about their solicitation campaigns to the attorney general's office and telephone solicitors may not intentionally block Caller ID.

Phone Scam Alert

An unusual telephone scam has been reported in many parts of the United States. By using this scam, criminals commit fraud against you and your phone company.

The scam starts with a telephone call from an individual who identifies himself as an AT&T service technician who is running a test on your telephone line. The caller states that in order to complete the test you will need to enter three separate numbers in a specific order and hang up.

Luckily, one intended victim became suspicious and refused. Upon contacting the telephone company, he was informed that by entering these numbers, he would have given the caller access to his telephone line. This allows the person to place a long-distance phone call at the victim's expense.

AT&T's customer service department would like to hear from anyone who has been a victim or who has questions. To report a scam or for more information, call AT&T at 1-800-222-0400.

Are you annoyed by unsolicited junk mail?

There is nothing more frustrating than having a mailbox full of catalogs and fund-raising solicitation letters you didn't request.

Now you can do something about all that unwanted correspondence.

You can have your address removed from junk mail lists by sending a postcard or letter to:
Direct Marketing Association
Mail Preference Service
P.O. Box 9008
Farmingdale, NY 11735-9008

Please keep in mind that the list is only reviewed every three months and it may take several months before you notice a reduction in the amount of junk mail that you receive. Once your request has been activated, it will be honored for a period of up to five years.

Don't fall victim to a scam

While most junk mail is merely annoying, some of it can end up costing you lots of money. Every year, Americans lose millions of dollars responding to phony contest and sweepstakes offers. The Better Business Bureau says seniors are often the target of these heartless con artists who claim to offer fabulous prizes like cars, boats and trips but rarely deliver on their promises.

The fly-by-night companies who run these scams give out few if any nice prizes. Their goal is to make money, not make other people happy. They may ask you to pay to have a prize shipped to you or to buy merchandise to "improve your chances of winning." Don't respond to these requests. In the state of Indiana, it is illegal to ask anyone to pay to enter a contest.

The Better Business Bureau also cautions you not to give your credit card information to an unfamiliar company. This information is not needed to "hold a prize" or have it shipped to your home or office.

BMV Information

Obtaining an Indiana title and registration

New Indiana residents must have their automobile's vehicle identification number (VIN) verified at a license branch. Then they must exchange the out-of-state title for an Indiana title and pay a $15 title application fee.

Purchasing a vehicle from an out-of-state dealer

Indiana state law requires a 5% sales tax on all vehicle purchases. Motorists who purchase an out-of-state vehicle must pay sales tax at the time of title application. Motorists must apply for a title within 31 days of purchase or pay a $21 late fee.

Requirements to title and register watercraft

The owner must obtain a Hull Identification Number (HIN), show proof of ownership, pay a $5 lake enhancement fee, $15 title fee, excise tax, and registration fee within 31 days of purchase. A boat valued at less than $3,000 at the time of purchase is not required to have a title.

State identification cards

Call (317)233-6000 for information on what documentation you must provide.

Indiana driver's license

Any person applying for the first time must present an appropriate learner's permit. A license is valid for four years and expires on the holder's birthday. The fee for a four year operator's license is $14. Indiana residents over the age of 75 are issued a three year operator's license at a cost of $12.

Motor Vehicle Excise Tax

Did you know that the Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV) actually receives less than 1 cent of every dollar of excise tax it collects? The remainder of the money goes toward funding services within our community. Fees collected by the BMV are used for schools, hospitals, police, fire protection, roads and bridges, libraries, and other programs.

Parking placards

BMV parking placards are available that allow persons with physical disabilities to legally park a vehicle in parking areas that are designated for disabled drivers. To apply for a placard, the applicant must have a doctor complete a medical certificate affirming that the individual has a qualifying disability. Medical certification forms are available at any license branch.

The Special Recognition Plate Program allows motorists to support Indiana-based universities, colleges and organizations. A $15 BMV administration fee is charged for special recognition license plates. This fee must be paid at the time of registration in addition to any required contribution paid to the organization. (Please note that the following fees list includes this $15 administration fee). For more information on obtaining a special recognition license plate, contact the organization of interest or the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles at (317) 233-6000 or www.bmvexpress.org to request an application.

The value of exercise

No matter how old you are, exercise can benefit your health.

Physical activity can boost your heart, your mood and your confidence level. Being physically fit allows you to be stronger and more independent.

Vigorous exercise can strengthen the heart and lungs. A regular brisk walk can lower your risk for heart disease. Climbing stairs and doing housework can increase your strength and stamina. Strength training is a good way to stop muscle loss and slow down bone loss.

- People who are physically active are less likely to develop diabetes.
- Strength training can lessen arthritis pain.

- Light exercise is also good for your mental health.

Talk to a doctor before you begin any type of exercise program.

Overweight

Maintaining a healthy weight can help your health.

Being overweight has been shown to increase your chances of high blood pressure, diabetes, heart disease and some types of cancer.

If you feel you need to lose weight, contact your physician for a healthy weight-loss plan.

Underweight

It is not healthy to be too thin, either. Many changes occur naturally with aging. As people age, it becomes harder for the body to absorb nutrients. At the same time, many older people eat less or skip meals.

To maintain your appetite:

- Make eating a social activity
- Plan meals in advance
- Eat well when you are sick
- Increase calorie consumption by eating more often.

Improperly-fitting dentures can cause trouble chewing. A dentist can correct the problem for you.

If you have difficulty swallowing, mention it to your physician. You also might try to eat softer foods such as yogurt, cooked fruits and vegetables.

Cancer

The following steps can reduce your chances of getting cancer:

- 1) Do not smoke.
- 2) Maintain a healthy weight.
- 3) Get at least 30 minutes of exercise or physical activity every day.
- 4) Eat a healthy diet containing less red meat and more vegetables, fruits, and whole grains.
- 5) Limit your consumption of alcoholic beverages (even one glass of wine each day increases your cancer risk).
- 6) Protect yourself as well as your partner from sexually transmitted diseases.

Cancer Information

The American Cancer Society has trained cancer information specialists available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to answer questions and link callers with resources in their communities. For information, please contact the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345 or www.cancer.org.

Eye Problems

As people age, some begin to lose their eyesight. To help you see better, add brighter lights around the house. Have an eye exam at least every two years. The eye doctor will check for eye diseases, test your eyesight, check your glasses and test your eye muscles. The doctor should also test for glaucoma. It may also help to see your doctor regularly to check for diseases such as diabetes. Diabetes can affect one's eyesight if left untreated.

Arthritis

Arthritis can affect joints in any part of the body. This disease causes pain and loss of movement. Half of all people age 65 and older have arthritis.

For more information, contact:

Arthritis Foundation
P.O. Box 19000
Atlanta, GA 30325
(800) 283-7800.

Treatable Health Problems

Osteoporosis

As bones age, they become brittle and break more easily. Eating 1200 to 1500 milligrams of calcium daily can protect you against this disease.

To increase your calcium intake, eat foods such as milk, yogurt and cheese. You may also consider taking calcium supplements.

Regular weight-bearing exercise, such as walking, builds bone strength and helps prevent bone loss.

One out of five women and one in eight men over age 50 will suffer an osteoporosis-related fracture.

Risk factors for stroke

- High blood pressure
 - Smoking
 - High-fat diet
- Physically inactive lifestyle
- Excessive consumption of alcohol
 - Family history
- Atrial fibrillation, irregularities, or other heart disease

Who is at risk?

- Men are more likely than women to have a stroke
- African-Americans, Puerto Ricans, Cuban-Americans, and Mexican-Americans are more likely to have high blood pressure

Warning Signs of a Stroke

- Sudden numbness or weakness of leg, arm or face—especially on one side of the body
 - Sudden confusion, difficulty in speaking or understanding
 - Sudden vision problems in one or both eyes
- Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, loss of balance or coordination
 - Sudden, severe headache with no known cause

Heart Disease

Risk factors for heart disease include diabetes, smoking, excess body weight, high cholesterol, high blood pressure and a lack of physical activity.

A healthy diet and regular physical activity can lower your risk for heart disease.

Facts about heart disease

- Heart disease is the number one killer in Indiana.
- 42% of all deaths in Indiana are caused by heart disease, almost double the number of deaths caused by AIDS, cancer and all accidents combined.
- Cardiovascular disease costs the United States about $274.2 billion annually.

Symptoms of a heart attack include:

- uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain in the center of the chest lasting for more than a few minutes.
- pain spreading to shoulders, neck or arms
- chest discomfort accompanied by sweating, light-headedness, fainting, nausea or shortness of breath.

Special note to women: The symptoms and signs of a heart attack for a woman are often more subtle than those for a man. Shortness of breath, nausea, vomiting and tightness in the chest—alone and not necessarily combined with any of the above—should be taken very seriously. Unfortunately, many women do not recognize the warning signs involved with a heart attack. In fact, any sign of not feeling well should be a reason to be concerned.

If you experience any of these symptoms or have any questions, contact your emergency services immediately.

Health Care

CHOICE

Community and Home Options to Institutional Care for the Elderly

The CHOICE program provides in-home services to individuals who are at risk of losing their independence in their own homes and communities. The program allows seniors to remain in their homes while receiving care, preserving autonomy, independence and privacy for the individual it serves.

CHOICE services include attendant care, transportation, adult day care, home delivered meals, homemaker, home health services and supplies, respite care and other services necessary to prevent institutionalization.

CHOICE is cost-effective: the average cost per day of a CHOICE program participant is $18.92, compared to $40.02 for a skilled nursing facility and $29.42 for an intermediate care facility.

Medicaid waivers allow Indiana to provide home- and community-based services to individuals who would otherwise require the level of care provided in an intermediate-care or skilled nursing facility.

The Aged and Disabled Waiver serves individuals 65 years of age or older or individuals who have disabilities and meet the Medicaid guidelines. Individuals served by this waiver must meet the level-of-care standards of a skilled or intermediate nursing facility.

Contact Family and Social Services Administration for more information at P.O. Box 7083, Indianapolis, IN 46207, (317) 232-7020.

Medicare

The Medicare program was created in 1965 to help individuals obtain and pay for medical care. Medicare accounts for 28% of all hospital costs and 20% of all physician payments.

Medicare is made up of two parts: Part A (Hospital Insurance) and Part B (Medical Insurance).

Part A (Hospital Insurance) helps pay for hospital care, skilled nursing facilities, and home healthcare and hospice care.

Part B (Medical Insurance) helps pay for doctors and outpatient hospital care. Part B also covers some medical services that Part A does not such as physical and occupational therapy.

Direct Prescription Assistance

Millions of American seniors have incomes too high to qualify for Medicaid or HoosierRx, yet struggle to pay for essential medications that Medicare does not fund. Many pharmaceutical companies give away free prescription drugs directly to consumers who can't afford them, so you may qualify for discount prescriptions through the drug company directly.

Most programs are limited to low-income households, but a handful of the more expensive drugs are available to people with incomes of $30,000 a year or more. The only drawback to these programs is that each company has its own application process, and you may have to resubmit an application periodically. Please contact the companies listed below for more information.
